THE ELMS ELMHURST COLLEGE ELMHURST, ILLINOIS VOLUME 61 1979

The year 1978-1979 has been a year in which the unexpected has been commonplace. We have seen our football team come from nowhere to grab the brass ring in the C.C.I.W.; a conference championship. Equally amazing was the ruling of Hockey league officials that our hockey team was ineligible to compete for the much sought league championship, which was well within our grasp. Other things which occurred were the establishment of Alpha Phi as a sorority on campus, Hall Director Calvin Saunders leaving, to be replaced by Assistant Football Coach Charles Goehl, and the treat (?) of living through one of the coldest winters in recent memories. Ah yes, we had seen the likes of some eighty nine or so inches of flakes, as well as a steady string of days with the mercury well below zero. Some other welcome changes were the reopening of Old Main as the main building for classes on campus. The gym also reopened, albeit later than expected, in time for Second Semester. And Irion Hall, erstwhile home of the Music department and the Center for Business and Economics nears completion of the renovation within.

On a larger scale, we have in recent days read of the first major nuclear disaster in U.S. history at Three Mile Island in Pennsylvania, heard of toppling of The Shah of Iran by the weight of a strange combine of Marxists and Moslems, whose leader the Ayatollah Khomeini rules in a manner which does not appear much different than that of the Shah himself. Our President, Jimmy Carter normalized relations with the largest nation on earth, helped to establish the first real peace treaty in the Middle East, and changed the part in his hair, all in about five months.

This year then, has had much that distinguishes it from both past and future years. We present this to you, the reader, in the hopes of helping you to revive the memories of these sometimes funny, sometimes depressing, but only rarely dull days. Please, read this book and remember and enjoy.

NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION

Once again, new students were introduced to the campus and the people. Fifty student leaders and faculty helped out by making these new faces feel welcome. Many new acquaintances were made through group activities, the activity fair, games in the mall, and a pizza/disco the last night.

Student leaders lend a helping hand.

Egg Toss

The annual Tug-of-War between the new students and upperclassmen was the last event. Because they were outnumbered, the upperclassmen did not play the game exactly by the rules.

Winning the Tug-of-War was no problem for the new students, but what followed caught a few of them off guard.

SPEAKERS

Sidney Lens is a famous author, editor, historian, and expert on the nuclear arms race. Mr. Lens emphasized the need for recognizing the effects nuclear power will have on every human being.

Stud Terkel is partially responsible for restoring pride and dignity to the working man. Mr. Terkel discussed the American way of life.

Vincent Bugliosi was the prosecuting attorney in the Manson case and the author of Helter Skelter.

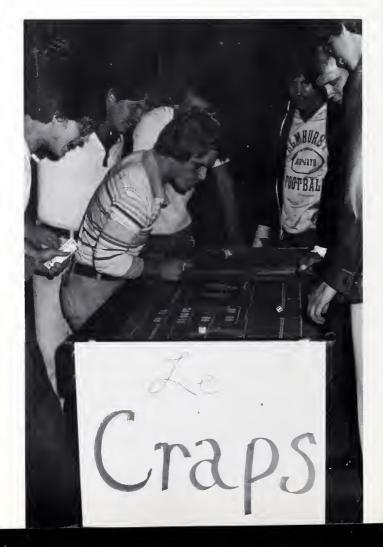

Charles Percy stopped by during his campaign talk.

HOMECOMING '78

Homecomings' "Celebration" was a weekend of fun and excitement for Elmhurst College from Thursday, October 19th through Sunday the 22nd. The beginning of the festivities began with the performance of the comedy/musical, "Celebration", at the Mill Theatre. Friday afternoon at 5:30 the pep rally began-the football team was introduced along with alumni and coaches. The school's annual "Casino Night", which is a modified version of Las Vegas, was held in the cafeteria on Friday night. The night was filled with poker, slot machines, roulette tables and Black-jack dealers. A disco band, "Pezz Band", played in the main floor of the union for those discoloving and those not-so-disco-loving dancers.

HOMECOMING GAME

The Jays' first loss of the 1978 season which dropped their record to a 5-1 occurred at the Homecoming game on Saturday, October 21, 1978. The Blue Jays' lost to Augustana 16 to 13 after having a 13 to 0 lead at half time. Two fourth quarter interceptions helped the Augustana Vikings with their score of 16 which led to their victory over the Jays. Alas, the large Homecoming crowd was dismayed, yet optimistic for the rest of the Jay's season.

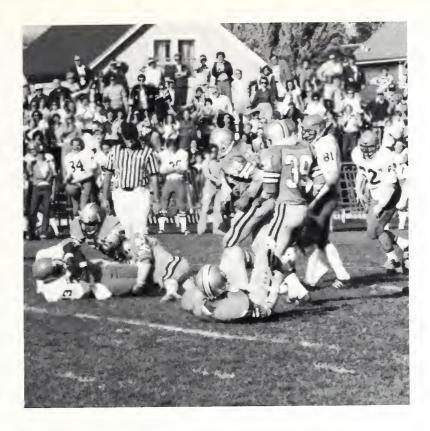

Although there were no photographs available from the Homecoming dance, rumor had it that the dance was fine. It was held at the luxurious Continental Plaza in "The City" (Chicago). Cocktails were served from 7-8 p.m., dinner was at 8 p.m. and there was continuous dancing from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

JAZZ FESTIVAL '79

The annual Mid West College Jazz Festival was held with 25 participating schools (from all over the Mid West) from Friday, February 23rd to Sunday, the 25th. The festival went smoothly this year considering keeping track of 32 groups. It was a challenge but with the students working as security personnel, hosts and hostesses, the weekend was successful. Clark Terry was the guest artist at the Festival. He is an internationally recognized trumpet and flugel horn player. Along with Terry, the many, many talented musicians filled the weekend with much good music which was both appreciated and enjoyed. Awards were given to the outstanding bands and soloists.

F.O.F.

This years Festival of Fools was headed off by the appearance of the Fool in the cafeteria. That night we had a concert in the chapel, featuring Catharsis, a group made up of E.C. students, followed by Albert King, a blues singer. Saturday there was a co-ed softball tournament in the mall, and a semi-formal dinner dance at Villa Olivia that night.

The third Leadership Conference was held between interim and 2nd semester. Present were CLC and UB members, orientation leaders, RA's, and one delegate from each campus organization. One purpose was to examine the campus's organizational vitality, purposes, goals, and methods of assessment.

Recreational Life planned two ski trips this year. One was to Tyrol Basin, and the other was to Canonsburg, Michigan. For many, it was their first time skiing (note pictures)!

Steve Skora is the new chairman of Rec. Life. Among some of the things Steve and his committee (not pictured) plan are the annual Spring Break trip (this year they went to Galveston, Texas) and all of the intramural sports for men and women.

COMMUTER ORGANIZATION

This is an organization for non-resident students who enjoy being active. They had a tailgate picnic for Homecoming, and also decorated the Union with posters to get everyone psyched up for the big weekend.

THE ELMHURST COLLEGE

YEAR OF CHANGE FOR NEWSPAPER

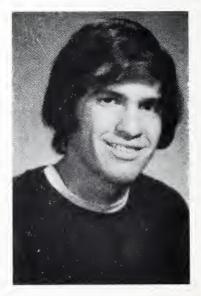

The year was one of change for the E.C. student newspaper. For beginners, the name leader was chosen to replace the former "Newspaper". Copy space was increased 150% and regular newsprint was utilized instead of the white paper.

The new format added significantly to expenses and over $2000 in advertising revenue was generated to make ends meet. The expansion also necessitated more student participation and the staff of the paper was almost doubled.

The LEADER had the opportunity to cover a variety of significant issues concerning the college. The paper brought the stricter graduation honors requirement changes to the attention of the student body, which were later reduced. The vandalism in Schick Hall was also given coverage by the LEADER as well as a special campus security report.

Because of increased copy space, feature stories were allowed to be more creative and attractively "laid out". Some of the outstanding features included topics such as evening students, interim trips, Valentines Day, Black History, Jazz Festival, W.R.S.E., and of course that zany column Dane Camp wrote under the pen name of Hans Kowalski entitled "Meanwhile . . . "

All in all, the 1978-79 year was one of change for the student newspaper, and a very good year it was.

IN MEMORIUM

Jeanne Spencer, who had worked at the Union Desk as calendar coordinator for many years, died Oct. 12.

"Since 1966 she was that ever-cheerful presence behind the Union Desk. Several generations of students, the faculty and staff have been enriched by the legacy of Jeanne's warm, friendly personality. She amazed us all with her attention to detail, boundless energy and never-ceasing concern for everyone she encountered. Visitors to the College were also met with that confident cordial warmth that charactereized Jeanne. She represented us in a manner that we should strive to deserve. To say that we will miss her understates our grief ... but we will miss her."

ELMS

To understand how this book came to be will take quite a bit of explaining. Things started happening with about four weeks left of school when the editor of the book, Kris Bailey, resigned. There were only 15 pages completed, and deadlines were late, and rapidly coming due. I was sort of pushed into the job of editor, for lack of anyone else interested or qualified. Speaking of qualified, I was not that at all; I had never laid out a picture before this.

Well, I learned pretty quick, and soon I found myself teaching other people how to do it. It can safely be said that the majority of the pages were done by novices.

The following is a list of people who have helped in some way or another to bring this book to you:

Tim Webster Steve Skora

John Hampton Erich Adickes

Dolores Rodgers Sue Toth

Zbysiz Predki Linda Putz

Bob Burdick

I am very grateful to these people, because many of them gave up their free days during the summer to help me out.

Hopefully this book will be a good preservation of the 78-79 school year, and in the years to come you can pull it out, flip through the pages, and reminisce about a year that was.
